Fifth Company Officers at Fort Greble—Lenihan-Bransfield Marriage—Developing Musicology on Broad Lines—Busy Session of Probate Court—John McCulloch, Seeking to Escape Auto, Steps in Front of Moving Trolley Car—Arm and Three Ribs Broken.

Majors Arthur N. Nash and Bourdon, A. Babcock, Capt. Robert G. Thackeray and Lieut. Robert Freestone and Eugene Partel, Fifth company, with the other officers of the coast artillery corps, Rhode Island national guard, are receiving instruction at Fort Greble, Dutch Island, this week, preparing for the annual tour of duty of the state troops. The service will begin next Sunday when the citizen-soldiers will go to the forts that guard the entrance to Narragansett bay.

The assembling of officers a week in advance of the maneuvers is in line with the efforts of the war department to improve the efficiency of the state troops. This instruction will get the officers in condition for the handling of the troops when they begin tour of duty next Sunday.

With only the members of the families and a few intimate friends present Joseph L. Lenihan, bookkeeper and salesman for the Babcock & Wilcox Co., and Miss Katherine E. Bransfield, daughter of Chief of Police and Mrs. Cornelius Bransfield, were married in a simple ceremony in the church of the Immaculate Conception, at seven o'clock Thursday night. The bride, Miss Annie E. Bransfield, sister of the bridegroom, was escorted by John A. Lenihan, brother of groom, was best man.

A breakfast was served at the residence of the bride's parents in School street, Mr. and Mrs. Lenihan left at 11:15 on the Colonial express for Philadelphia, where they will spend the balance of the week. Mr. Lenihan is a prominent Elk, and they will attend the Elk's convention and its accompanying festivities in Atlantic City.

The property known as the Oliver Davis place, on the Post road, which comprises over three hundred acres, located in the town of Westerly, and which borders Quonset point, pond and the Atlantic ocean, and which has been designated as musicology, is destined to become one of the most unique communities in the world, as the summer home of singers and musicians. Dr. Lawson of New York originated the idea and secured the original option on the property. The plan is to have the colony modern in every detail. Music, dance and singing are making personal examination of the place almost daily.

The main street in the colony will be one hundred feet in width and the building line will be established twenty-five feet back from the sidewalk line. It is also planned to lay out a park sixty acres in area. Water will be supplied from natural springs, sufficient in quantity for all purposes, and the pressure will be increased sufficiently to run dynamo to furnish electric light. Mr. Lawson is now in the colony modern in every detail. Music, dance and singing are making personal examination of the place almost daily.

Judge Edward M. Burke held regular session of probate court Tuesday afternoon. The first business was the granting of the petition of Charles L. Babcock, administrator of the estate of William H. Sisson, for final account, which was examined and approved for record.

William W. Pike of Westerly and Edward Pike of Sterling, only heirs at law of Anna E. Pike, intestate, petitioned that administration papers be granted Benjamin B. Stanton, and as the only heirs of the estate signed waiver of notice. Mr. Stanton was appointed administrator and bond was fixed at $50,000, with the Messrs. Pike as surety. Eugene B. Pendleton, Joseph T. Murphy and John T. Murphy were appointed appraisers.

Catherine P. Scott, administratrix of the estate of Robert J. Scott, petitioned that administration papers be granted, approved and ordered recorded.

Local Leagues.
Local residents are busied in taking hammocks from yards and verandas.

John R. Scott of Uxbridge, Mass., is visiting friends in Westerly. He is 84 years of age and was formerly superintendent of the O. W. Stillman mill in Stillmanville.

The body of James Brown, who was killed by a car of the Norwich & Westerly road at State street station, Monday night, was brought here Monday afternoon and buried in St. Michael's cemetery.

The quarterly report of the treasurer of the Sabbath school board of the Seventh-day Baptist general conference shows a contribution of $26.65 from the Westerly church, the largest sum received from any church of Sabbath school.

Edward Charles St. Onge, superintendent of letter carriers of the Western postoffice, is off duty, by reason of an injury received on the night of July Fourth. When a car struck a boy, whose aim is not as true as that of the historical William Tell, fired a stone at a barbed wire fence, striking Mr. St. Onge in the right heel with such force that he is almost unable to walk.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON
Four-Ounce Egg Reported—Boswell-Kennedy Wedding—Grocer Has to Put Matches on Ice—Funeral of Miss Kate Battey.

William H. White of Oakland, R. I., has come to spend the summer at his cottage in Brooklyn.

Electric lights have been installed on Plainfield street and soon other streets in that town will be lighted.

Miss Leah Burns is spending the summer at the home of relatives in Boston.

Laid Record Eggs.
From South Killingly comes the report that recently one of the members of the flock of hens owned by Percy Ritten had an egg which is considered the largest ever laid by a hen. It weighed four ounces and measured 3.4 inches long by 1.2 inches round.

Playing in Los Angeles.
Friends have received word from Edith Swan Corbett that she is now playing in Los Angeles, Cal., and will play in the west until 1912. Mrs. Corbett is a trombone player of note, well known here, her home being in a nearby village.

Miss Evelyn Soule has rented a cottage at Woodlawn park for the summer.

Change to Open Cars.
A much appreciated change from the closed cars to the open bench cars has been made with the company operating the line from West Thompson to Webster, and now the one car that comes through to Central village is of the latter type.

Boswell-Kennedy Marriage.
The marriage of Miss Nellie Kennedy and Adelbert Boswell at New London Saturday is announced. Miss Kennedy is a daughter of the late Samuel Kennedy of the West Side and Mr. Boswell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Boswell of Broad street, this place. They will spend their honeymoon at Greenport, L. I. after which they will reside in Providence, where Mr. Boswell is employed as a stone mason.

Matches in Cold Storage.
Among the hot weather stories around town one is told of a local storekeeper who had to place all of his stock of parlor matches in the ice-chest, as those on the shelves of the store became ignited from spontaneous combustion during the excessive heat of Tuesday.

FUNERAL.
Miss Kate Battey.

The funeral of Miss Kate Battey, 67, who died Sunday, was held Wednesday afternoon at the undertakings rooms of F. E. Studley on Furnace street. Rev. E. E. Studley officiating. Burial was in the Westfield cemetery.

CAPITOL CHATTER
Little Sidelights on Legislators and Legislation

Wednesday will go on record as one of the remarkable days in the history of the present general assembly. Legislators arrived at the capitol covered with railroad dirt and with perspiration. They did not come in any great number, barely a quorum being present. The body of the house, however, came might be regarded in the light of martyrs. They sat through a stifling steamed session, swinging palm-leaf fans to assuage the heat.

Speaker Scott, who has been ill, and the house to order Wednesday, but did not long remain in the chair, calling Mr. Magee of Waterbury to preside. Mr. Scott returning later.

Representative Whiton of New London is one member who made a long speech Wednesday despite the heat.

Mayer Mahan of New London will be busy for a few days answering the questions of brother legislators as to how it feels to go up in an airship.

In the house today (Thursday) at noon all matters at the foot of the calendar will be ready for action as the order of the day.

Representative Smith of Windham made his first speech of the session Wednesday in connection with an amendment that he offered to a bank bill under consideration relative to the examination of banks. Representative Hall of Willington claimed that it is impossible under the present system for two commissioners to do the work of inspection thoroughly; that today inspectors are inspectors in name only.

The first call for a vote in the house Wednesday morning disclosed the lack of a quorum and adjournment for the day. A count of the members showed only 123 members present. There would have been a quorum if some of the members who were in other parts of the capitol had been in their seats.

Representative Candee of Easton forced the vote that caused adjournment and drew the ire of Representative Bingham of Naugatuck, he telling Candee that he ought to go home and stay at home.

Both houses will meet this (Thursday) morning at 11:15.

STONINGTON
Small Blaze on Roof of Harlow House—Annual Election of Pierce H. & L. Co.—Accident to Frank Shannon.

At 8:45 o'clock Tuesday evening an alarm was rung in at the corner of Water and School streets from box 2 for a fire in an old house, which has long been vacant. The fire companies and hook and ladder company were prompt in responding, but were not needed as the men who sounded the alarm reached the roof of the building and with the aid of several buckets of water put out the blaze, which seemed to have been caused by a chimney. It is thought the fire was caused by the works during the evening. The house is called the Harlow house, and has been built many years.

Holiday Visitors.
D. C. Williams and B. F. Holmes of Bonyon, N. J., made the trip to the town in their automobiles Tuesday. While here they will go to Boston and returning will spend Sunday with relatives in town.

Cyrus W. Gale of Portland, Me., was a Fourth of July visitor here.

Captain Eldridge had as his guest over the Fourth his son, Edward Eldridge of Beverly, Mass.

Ray Gardner of Providence spent the week at his former home here.

P. W. Cummings of Boston spent a part of the week here.

Prof. W. O. Turner of Williams is the guest of Dr. Charles Maine and family.

Mrs. George Gansalus and daughter of Maybrook, N. Y., are visiting Mrs. Gansalus' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon O. Lucier, on Grand View.

Postoffice Vacations Begin.
Clark Everett Burgess and City Carrier George D. Clark of the local postoffice commenced their annual 15 days vacation Wednesday. Jesse E. Wilcox is substituting for Carrier Clark and Edmund Gagne is helping out in the office. Rural Carrier Wilcox is substituting for City Carrier D. Clark.

Toy rake one of the prongs of which penetrated nearly through the foot.

City Court's June Revenue.
In the city court during June fines amounted to $25.50 and costs to $20.63, making a total of $46.13.

Drouth Ends Strawberry Crop.
Local strawberry growers state that this year's crop is nearly exhausted and that owing to lack of rain and generally unfavorable conditions, the crop was only about two-thirds the average.

NEW TEACHERS
Engaged by School Board for Coming Year.

At a meeting of the school board the following new teachers were appointed for the coming school year: Mabel Foster, Lowell, Mass., kindergarten; Mildred E. Smith, Rosindale, Mass., second grade; Mary P. Fowler, Allston, Mass., third grade; Mabel T. Hall, Medford, Mass., teacher of French and German at the high school. Charles W. Bradway showed the committee a plan of a proposed change of the roadway in the corner of School and Providence streets, where the new school is located. The board approved the plan and recommended that it be adopted by the town.

Blistering Heat.
In the blistering action throughout Wednesday the thermometer shade read from 97 to 103 degrees, while in stores and offices the air was but little cooler.
